

2024 Coaching Services

Description: We can do good work in the world without compromising our values or relying upon systems and structures that cause harm. My coaching services are intended to provide a deep dive into aligning values with actions and creating or scaling a business that creates real change. You'll get support, accountability, and encouragement to help you articulate your vision and achieve your goals.

Intended Clientele: My coaching clients are the folks who give a damn - the ones who care deeply about their impact in the world and want to live their values through their work. My clients often seek support as they conceptualize their business and/or support to bring it to life.

My Approach: My coaching style is rooted in helping you develop your distinct leadership style and uncovering the intersection where your skills and passions meet through the lens of equity and sustainability. With years of experience and training, I can guide you through a process of discovery that is both deep and authentic.

These are some of the areas I often work on with my clients:

- Developing inclusive and equitable leadership practices
- Approaching your work through an anti-racist and intersectional feminist lens
- Identifying the big vision for your work
- Creating a step-by-step plan to make your ideas reality
- Understanding the interconnected nature of different systems
- Identifying and aligning your work with your core values
- Considering your or your organization's impact on society
- Learning how to identify and address toxic business practices and integrate justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion in your work
- Developing an action plan with the next steps for starting or scaling your business
